Publishers' Book Exhibit

A publishers' book exhibit will be held in the Grand Lilac Ballroom South at the Rochester Riverside Convention Center (adjacent to the Hyatt Regency hotel) beginning at 8:30 a.m. on Thursday. It will run from 8:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. on Thursday and Friday and from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday. The display is organized in cooperation with publishers specializing in scholarship influenced by continental philosophy and literary, social, and political theory. Publishers offer discounts on books ordered at the exhibit.

Website

The complete program is available on the SPEP website: <http://www.spep.org>.

Publication Notice

SPEP retains the right of first review for papers presented at the annual meeting. Each presenter should forward to the current co-directors, Amy Allen (amy.allen@dartmouth.edu) and Anthony Steinbock (steinboc@siu.edu), an electronic copy of his/her paper by December 1, 2012 for consideration in the special supplemental issue of The Journal of Speculative Philosophy. If the paper is selected for publication, there will be an opportunity for minor revisions. Decisions regarding publication will be communicated by mid-January 2013.

Executive Committee Elections

Alia Al-Saji’s term of office as Member-at-Large expires this year. The Executive Committee nominates both Falguni A. Sheth of Hampshire College and Emily Zakin of Miami University of Ohio for a three-year term as a Member-at-Large.

Falguni A. Sheth is Associate Professor of Philosophy and Political Theory at Hampshire College in Amherst, Massachusetts. Her research is located in the interstices of continental philosophy, political and legal theory, philosophy of race, and Asian American diaspora studies. She has published numerous articles and two books, Race, Liberalism, and Economics (coedited, U. Michigan Press, 2004) and Toward a Political Philosophy of Race (SUNY Press, 2009). Her current research is in several areas: transnational feminist theory, hybrid subjectivity and race; Foucault’s biopolitics in the context of legal subjectivity; the emergence and legal construction of Punjabi-Mexicans at the turn of the 20th century; and the metaphysics of misrecognition. Sheth has served on the Immigrant Rights Commission of San Francisco, and is an organizer of the California Roundtable for Philosophy and Race.

Emily Zakin is Professor and Chair of Philosophy at Miami University of Ohio. She received her Ph.D. in Philosophy from SUNY at Stony Brook. She works in political philosophy, psychoanalysis, feminist theory, and contemporary French philosophy, and has published articles in journals such as Hypatia, Telos, and Philosophy Today, and book chapters in numerous collections. She is the co-editor of Derrida and Feminism: Recasting the Question of Woman (Routledge 1997), and Bound by the City: Greek Tragedy, Sexual Difference, and the Formation of the Polis (SUNY 2009). She is currently completing a book manuscript entitled Recalcitrant States: Political Mythology and the Limits of Democracy on Freud, Schmitt, and Arendt. She is also a founding co-editor of philoSOPHIA: A Journal of Continental Feminism. She previously served on the SPEP Committee for the Status of Women (2004–07) and the Advisory Book Selection Committee (2003–04).

Annual SPEP Lecture and Reception at the Eastern APA Meeting

The twelfth annual SPEP lecture at the Eastern Division APA meeting will be delivered this year by Debra Bergoffen of George Mason University. The title of her paper will be “Antigone After Auschwitz.” There will be a response by Tina Chanter of DePaul University and Thomas Flynn of Emory University will moderate the session. The session will be held on December 28th from 5:15–7:15 p.m. A reception for all SPEP members and friends of continental philosophy will immediately follow the lecture. The Eastern APA Meeting will be held December 27–30, 2012 at the Marriott Atlanta Marquis in Atlanta, GA.

Call for Papers

The fifty-second annual SPEP meeting will be hosted by the University of Oregon and SPEP at the Hilton Eugene Hotel and Conference Center. Papers and panels from diverse philosophical perspectives in all areas of Continental Philosophy are welcome. All submissions must be submitted electronically. Instructions for submitting papers and proposals will be available on the SPEP website at www.spep.org. The submission deadline is February 1, 2013. All submissions must be sent as electronic attachments in MS Word or PDF file format to Shannon Mussett at mussettspep@gmail.com.

Prizes

SPEP is pleased to offer two prizes for superlative submissions: the best submission by a junior scholar and the best submission by a graduate student. To be eligible for the SPEP Junior Scholar Award you must have earned a Ph.D. in the last five years (no earlier than 2007). All currently enrolled graduate students are eligible for the SPEP Graduate Student Scholar Award. Each prize is $500.00 plus a hotel and travel allowance. The runners-up for each prize will be featured in the program as SPEP Junior Scholar Honorable Mention and SPEP Graduate Student Scholar Honorable Mention.

Minutes of the 2011 SPEP Business Meeting

Cynthia Willett called the meeting to order at 5:43 p.m. on Friday, October 21, 2011.

1. The minutes of the 2010 meeting in Montréal, Canada were submitted and accepted without correction.
2. John Drummond was appointed parliamentarian.
3. On behalf of the Executive Committee gratitude was expressed to Walter Brogan, Leonard Lawlor, and to all of the graduate student assistants from Villanova University and Penn State University, especially Laura McMahon, Rachel Aumiller, and Mike Kim. In addition, the Executive Committee expressed gratitude to the local hosts at Villanova and Penn State University, Chris Paone for his efforts as the SPEP Graduate Assistant, as well as to Christopher Long of Penn State University for his continued work as the SPEP webmaster. Additionally, gratitude was extended to The Rock Ethics Institute, and the philosophy departments at American University, Boston College, Boston University, Duquesne University, Emory University, DePaul University, Penn State University, Stony Brook University, Temple University, and the University of Oregon for their support of the 50th anniversary celebratory festivities.
4. Shannon Lundeen presented the following statistical information for the 2011 meeting: The Executive Committee considered 368 papers. Of the 368 papers submitted, 118 were accepted resulting in an overall acceptance rate of 32%. Of the 368 papers submitted, 213 were authored by men and 74 were accepted, resulting in an acceptance rate of 35% for men. Of the 368 papers submitted, 155 were authored by women and 44 were accepted resulting in an acceptance rate of 28% for women. There were approximately 750 registered as attending the meeting.
5. Shannon Lundeen presented the budget and treasury report: For the 2010-2011 fiscal year, SPEP's total income was $93,283.42 and the total expenses were $93,561.42 for a net loss of $278.00. Due to a generous grant from the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada of close to $40,000, as well as the local hosts' support of $15,000 CAD, SPEP had to pay very little toward annual conference expenses last year. This, combined with the increase in dues and conference registration fees, has allowed SPEP to come close to breaking even this year. This is a significant accomplishment and is critical to the continued financial health of the Society.
6. The term of Shannon Lundeen expires with this meeting. On behalf of the Executive Committee, Anthony Steinbock expressed gratitude to Shannon Lundeen for her years of service to SPEP as the secretary-treasurer. Her successor, Shannon Mussett, was announced as taking over as secretary-treasurer at the conclusion of the meeting.
7. The term of Andrew Cutrofello expires with this meeting. Cynthia Willett expressed gratitude to Andrew Cutrofello for his many contributions to SPEP as an at-large member of the Executive Committee.
8. The term of Cynthia Willett expires with this meeting. On behalf of the Executive Committee, Anthony Steinbock expressed gratitude to Cynthia Willett for her many contributions to SPEP as a co-director of SPEP.
9. Alia Al-Saji conducted elections for the open positions on the Executive Committee. For the Member-at-Large, the Executive Committee nominated Shannon Winnubst and Fred Evans. There were no nominations from the floor. Fred Evans was elected by ballot. Gratitude was expressed to Shannon Winnubst for her willingness to serve.

10. The Executive Committee nominated Amy Allen for the position of Executive Co-Director. Amy Allen was elected by acclamation.
11. Shannon Lundeen recognized Brian Schroeder on behalf of Rochester Institute of Technology and Nazareth College, who gave a brief report about the arrangements for SPEP November 1–3, 2012 to be held at the Riverside Rochester Convention Center and the adjacent Hyatt Regency Rochester. The room rate is $130.00 for up to quadruple occupancy.
12. Brian Schroeder recognized Ted Toadvine on behalf of the University of Oregon at Eugene who gave a brief report about the arrangements for SPEP October 24–26, 2013. The local organizer will be Beata Stawarska. All events will be held at the Hilton Eugene Hotel and Conference Center. The room rate is $139.00 with each additional guest (up to four per room) costing $15.00.
13. Anthony Steinbock invited members to consider hosting the 2014 meeting and future meetings. He asked that those interested in hosting a meeting contact any member of the Executive Committee.
14. Andrew Cutrofello recognized Laura Hengehold who gave a report on the Committee on the Status of Women. The term of Mary Rawlinson expired this meeting. The Committee on the Status of Women nominated Elaine Miller for the vacant position of member at-large. Elaine Miller was elected by acclamation. The Committee discussed the possible creation of the Iris Marion Young prize in feminist scholarship. The Committee endorsed the proposal by Sharon Meagher and Noelle McAfee regarding the formation of a SPEP governance committee.
15. Andrew Cutrofello recognized Bob Vallier who gave a report on the Sexual Diversity Committee. The Committee introduced two motions: 1) to change the name of the committee to the LGBTQ Advocacy Committee; 2) to provide a mission statement for the committee. Both motions were approved by acclamation. The Committee announced that William Wilkerson will replace Bob Vallier as chair in one year and Kyoo Lee will rotate off as member at-large. The Committee nominated Mary Bloodsworth-Lugo for the vacant position of member at-large. Mary Bloodsworth-Lugo was elected by acclamation. The Committee announced plans to develop a survey for the membership on LGBTQ issues and concerns both within SPEP and the greater academic philosophical world. Gratitude was expressed to Andrew Cutrofello by the Committee.
16. Andrew Cutrofello recognized Falguni Sheth who gave a report on the Racial and Ethnic Diversity Committee. The term of Kathryn Gines expired this meeting. The Committee announced that Falguni Sheth will replace Kathryn Gines as chair. The Committee nominated Devonya Havis for the vacant position of member at-large. Devonya Havis was elected by acclamation. The Committee discussed the possible creation of a Diversity Prize.
17. Andrew Cutrofello recognized Ellen Feder who gave a report on the Advocacy Committee. The term of Ellen Feder expired at this meeting. The Committee announced that Robin James will replace Ellen Feder as chair. The Committee nominated Gail Weiss for the vacant position of member at-large. Gail Weiss was elected by acclamation. The Committee made two proposals: 1) recommending that untenured members of the committee be limited to one of three. The motion passed by acclamation; 2) proposing a resolution to endorse the Pluralist Guide, moving to adopt the statement for approval. Discussion followed by several members concerning The Pluralist Guide and its relationship to SPEP. Ed Casey proposed a friendly amendment to endorse the APA sponsored guide to philosophy, which was accepted by Ellen Feder. Paul Taylor proposed to amend the resolution by adding that SPEP does not officially endorse the findings or methodology of the Pluralist Guide. Ellen Feder called the question. The amended proposal passed 118/23/4. The official wording of the proposal is as follows:

“Proposal for Resolution for SPEP Members Regarding the Pluralist’s Guide to Philosophy

I. The membership of the Society of Phenomenology and Existential Philosophy supports the independent efforts of the new Pluralist’s Guide to Philosophy to:

1. provide new sources of information on areas of philosophy that remain underrepresented in most doctoral programs in the discipline and
2. provide information on the conditions for women and minorities in graduate philosophy programs.

The membership of SPEP has long championed pluralistic approaches to philosophy, as well as increased diversity in a field that continues to have the lowest representation by women and people of color compared to all other disciplines in the humanities and social sciences.

II. For the same set of reasons, the membership also supports the new APA-sponsored Guide to Graduate Study in Philosophy, which complements the Pluralist’s Guide by providing a comprehensive survey of all Ph.D. and M.A. graduate programs in the U.S. It includes concise information on women and people of color among faculty and graduate students as well as figures on average number of years to completion of the degree and placement data, while furnishing a profile of departments’ distinctive emphases.

III. We commend those committed to providing enhanced information about doctoral programs in philosophy in the US, as well as those working to promote diversity in the profession. While we appreciate those who have engaged in constructive dialogue about both Guides and their production, we condemn the incivility that has marked some criticisms, especially ad hominem attacks on the Pluralist’s Guide’s organizers and contributors as well as on SPEP and its membership despite the latter’s independence from the construction of this Guide. We are grateful to the authors of and contributors to both Guides for their work. Philosophy currently faces unprecedented marginalization within the academy; we support efforts to move past archaic divisions and find common ground.”

18. On behalf of the Executive Committee, Brian Schroeder announced the two prize recipients for the 2011 SPEP Submissions. The Graduate Student Prize Recipient is Dennis Lunt from Southern Illinois University Carbondale for his paper, “World Spirit as Baal: Marx, Adorno and Dostoevsky on Alienation.” The Junior Scholar Prize Recipient is Anne van Leeuwen from Jan van Eyck Academie for her paper, “Beauvoir, Irigaray and the Possibility of Feminist Phenomenology.” The Executive Committee also recognized the Honorable Mention Prizes for the following papers: Maxime Doyon, is the recipient of the Junior Scholar Honorable Mention Prize for his paper, “On the Role of the Concept in Husserl’s Theory of Perception: Non-Conceptual, Pre-Conceptual and Conceptual Contents.” Stephanie Clare, is the recipient of the Graduate Student Honorable Mention Prize for her paper, “Battling for Territory: Revisiting Fanon’s Black Skin, White Masks.”

19. New Business

- a) Anthony Steinbock announced that the eleventh annual SPEP lecture at the Eastern Division APA meeting will be delivered this year by Leonard Lawlor of The Pennsylvania State University. The title of his paper will be “What Happened? What is Going to Happen? An Essay on the Experience of the Event.” There will be a response by Ann V. Murphy of Fordham University and the session will be moderated by Debra Bergoffen of George Mason University. The session will be held on December 28th from 5:15– 7:15 p.m. A reception for all SPEP members and friends of continental philosophy will immediately follow the lecture. The Eastern APA Meeting will be held December 27–30, 2011 at the Marriott Wardman Park in Washington, D.C.
- b) Anthony Steinbock announced that SPEP has entered into a 5-year renewable agreement with Penn State Press and The Journal of Speculative Philosophy, edited by Vincent Colapietro and John Stuhr. The supplement will be printed and distributed once per year in August following the annual SPEP conference. The SPEP supplement of JSP will also be available online. If SPEP members elect to subscribe to JSP at the reduced rate of $25.00 for print, then members will be charged a shipping and handling fee of $15. Online only subscriptions for SPEP members will be $20.00. All presenters may send two electronic copies of their papers to the current Co-Directors, Anthony Steinbock and Cindy Willett, by December 1, 2011 if they would like to have their papers considered for publication in the SPEP Supplement of The Journal of Speculative Philosophy. This deadline is final. Final decisions regarding the papers to be included in the volume will be made by January 30, 2012. For papers to be considered, annual membership dues must be paid by the close of the registration desk on Saturday at noon. The issue of the journal change was raised from the floor. Anthony Steinbock replied that the Executive Committee had been considering a change of journal for some time based on membership input, noting that the SPEP supplement would be available to the membership in both paper and online format through the JSP.
- c) Due to questionable labor practices with some of the clothing makers in our online Café Press SPEP store, we will be closing the store and investigating a new vendor.

21. Announcements from the Membership

- a) Eduardo Mendieta introduced Chad Kautzer who offered a statement to support the Occupy Wall Street Movement. There was discussion concerning SPEP’s policy with officially endorsing political movements in general. There was further discussion from the membership concerning issues raised in the 2010 meeting of SPEP regarding motions and new business being brought to the floor without the membership having time to consider them in advance. The motion to issue a Statement in Support of the Occupy Wall Street Movement passed by majority of ayes. The official wording of the statement is as follows:

“A massive protest movement has emerged in response to an economic crisis, rapidly increasing wealth inequity, and diminishing employment and educational opportunities for an entire generation. The recent financial crisis, facilitated by Wall Street malfeasance, has only exacerbated a devastating decades-long trend that continues to socialize risk and privatize profit. This trend toward increasing economic injustice has disproportionately affected communities of color and left tens of millions homeless, jobless, and overburdened with student loans and underwater mortgages.

As educators and students, we have witnessed decreases in state funding for education, coupled with increases in tuition costs, the privatization of research, the commodification of campus spaces, the use of precarious and part-time positions, and attacks on collective bargaining. This has had a disciplinary effect on educators and students alike, hindering the pursuit of higher education, open and critical inquiry, as well as democratic participation.

SPEP stands in solidarity with the Occupy Wall Street movement, which represents a direct challenge to these social and political inequities and economic injustices, as it reclaims social spaces for democratic deliberation and participation and pushes back against a growing suspicion of social solidarity and the public good. SPEP encourages its members to support these principles and practices in the Occupy movement through any and all of the unique resources available to them.”

- b) Noelle McAfee and Sharon Meagher proposed a motion to form an ad hoc committee to address questions of SPEP governance through a year-long deliberative process by an all-volunteer committee. The official wording of the motion is as follows:

“We move to set up an ad hoc committee on SPEP governance that will convene for one year in order to review governance practices, policies, and procedures, and to develop and to circulate proposals in September 2012 for the membership to consider at the 2012 meeting. Any SPEP member who is not currently on the Executive Committee may volunteer by the end of October 2011 to serve on the committee, which will meet at least three times during the year by conference call.”

There was discussion among the membership about the value and goals of the committee, as well as its size and constitution. Concerns were again raised from the floor about the process for new agenda items and motions being brought to the business meeting without sufficient time for review by the membership. The motion to form an ad hoc committee carried by ballot 59/24/4 (67%).

- c) Several members made announcements from the floor.

The meeting was adjourned at 8:03 p.m.

Totality and Infinity at 50

Edited by Scott Davidson and Diane Perpich

Essays by 14 Levinas scholars provide a fresh account of the argument and purpose of Emmanuel Levinas's major work, Totality and Infinity, drawing parallels between Levinas and other thinkers; considering Levinas's relationship to other disciplines such as nursing, psychotherapy, and law; and bringing this seminal text to bear on specific issues of present-day concern.

The Demanded Self

Levinasian Ethics and Identity in Psychology

David M. Goodman

Demonstrates that the prevalent discourse and constructs of the self in modern psychology not only fail to address themes such as goodness and ethical responsibility, but even contribute to the formation of a self lived without regard for the other. The Demanded Self appeals to the philosophy of Emmanuel Levinas to challenge mainstream approaches to psychology.

Facing Nature

Levinas and Environmental Thought

Edited by William Edelglass, James Hatley & Christian Diehm

Applies Emmanuel Levinas's thought in approaching environmental philosophy from both humanistic and nonanthropocentric points of view, arguing that themes at the heart of his work—responsibility, alterity, the vulnerability of the body, bearing witness, and politics—are important for thinking about many of our most pressing contemporary environmental questions.

Levinas Studies

An Annual Review, Volume 7

Edited by John E. Drabinski

Guest editor John E. Drabinski presents a volume devoted to the study of the intertwining of race and racism and the notions of alterity, history, and responsibility within Levinas's philosophy. Essays consider Levinas's thought as it relates to the lived-experience of race, how his writings relate to colonialism and postcolonialism, and the ways in which his corpus is subject to radical critique by subaltern discourses.

Reexamining Deconstruction and Determinate Religion

Toward a Religion with Religion

Edited by J. Aaron Simmons and Stephen Minister

Addresses the conventional conflicts between those who desire a more objective, determinate, and quasi-evidentialist perspective on religious truth and those who adopt a more poetic, indeterminate, relativistic, and radical one. This unique volume maintains that a specifically deconstructive approach to religion does not necessarily dictate the complete indeterminacy or relativism of a "religion without religion."

The Madness of Vision On Baroque Aesthetics

Christine Buci-Glucksmann Translated by Dorothy Z. Baker
The first English translation of a seminal book on phenomenology by a leading contemporary French philosopher of aesthetics

In one of the most influential studies in phenomenological aesthetics of the baroque, integrating the work of Merleau-Ponty with Lacanian psychoanalysis, Renaissance studies in optics, and twentieth-century mathematics, the author asserts the materiality of the body and world in her aesthetic theory. With a new preface by the author and scholarly annotations by the translator that broaden the reader's understanding of this work.

The Ontology of Becoming and the Ethics of Particularity

M. C. DILLON

EDITED BY LAWRENCE HASS

"Dillon was a force in Continental philosophy in the US for more than four decades. . . . This volume will keep his voice and thought alive for years to come."—Galen Johnson, Professor of Philosophy, University of Rhode Island & General Secretary, International Merleau-Ponty Circle

No. 43 264 pages, hc $54.95

The Memory of Place

A Phenomenology of the Uncanny

DYLAN TRIGG

"Genuinely unique and a signal addition to phenomenological literature . . . It fills a significant gap, and it does so with eloquence and force."—Edward S. Casey, Distinguished Professor of Philosophy, Stony Brook

No. 41 386 pages, hc $69.95

The Tenets of Cognitive Existentialism

DIMITRI GINEV

Ginev draws on developments in hermeneutic phenomenology and other programs in hermeneutic philosophy to inform an interpretative approach to scientific practices. At stake is the question of whether it is possible to integrate forms of reflection upon the ontological difference in the cognitive structure of scientific research.

Transversal Rationality and Intercultural Text

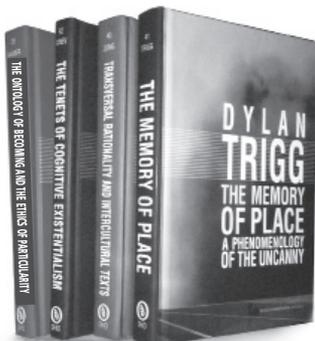

Essays in Phenomenology and Comparative Philosophy

HWA YOL JUNG

"The author's erudition is nothing short of dazzling. Original, far-reaching, and at times visionary, this work demonstrates philosophical thinking at the highest level. It sets a gold standard to follow for work in the area of comparative cross-cultural philosophy."

—Brian Schroeder, Professor and Chair of Philosophy and Director of Religious Studies at Rochester Institute of Technology
